

Year 2

- I can make sensible predictions of what might happen next based on what is stated.
- I can justify my predictions based on what has already happened.

Year 7

- I can predict the meaning of new vocabulary based on etymology and previous knowledge.

Year 3

- I can make clear predictions of what could happen next based on what is stated.
- I can justify my predictions based on what has already happened, giving evidence.

Year 6

- I can predict what might happen from details based on characters/settings.
- I can give justifications by identifying specific evidence from within the text.

Year 4

- I can make clear predictions of what could happen next based on what is stated.
- I can justify my predictions based on what has already happened, giving evidence.

Year 5

- I can make more detailed predictions, using details (stated or implied), from within the text to justify my opinions.